PREMIUM WIRE BRUSH LINE FROM PURDY®
COMBINES ADVANCED FUNCTIONALITY AND ERGONOMICS

Heavy-Duty Wire Brushes Allow for Faster Prep Work and Clean Up

CLEVELAND – Preparation and cleanup can be the most tedious parts of a painting project. To help consumers prepare surfaces with greater ease, Purdy® offers a premium line of three wire brushes constructed of rust-resistant stainless steel bristles.

The line includes long handle and short handle, pistol-grip style brushes that feature a unique patent-pending, criss-cross bristle pattern that removes paint up to two times faster. Also, the brush handles are ergonomic, comfortable and allow for multiple grip positions for less fatigue. The long-handle model is equipped with a removable scraper attachment for use in tight areas.

“The texture and strength of Purdy’s wire brushes are ideal for quickly and easily removing old paint from a variety of hard surfaces such as metal, concrete and wood,” said Andrew Marsden, Purdy product manager.

The block wire brush rounds out the line offering. It also features rust-resistant stainless bristles and a comfort-grip, ergonomic block handle. The patent-pending design of the block wire brush includes a universal threaded end for use with extension poles.

Purdy’s wire brushes are available at fine paint stores and hardware retailers nationwide.
